

8. The Donkey Who Liked to Sing

WORKSHEET 1

COMPREHENSION

Read the given passage carefully.

Zebras belong to the horse family. They have stripes all over their body. Zebras eat grass and leaves. A baby zebra is called a foal. Its mother is called a mare and father is called a stallion. Zebras have strong bodies and legs. They have big ears. They can run very fast. A big herd of zebras is made of many zebra families. Foals stay close to their mothers to be safe. For at least two days, after the birth of a newborn foal, the mother keeps all the other zebras away so that they can get to know each other's patterns of stripes on the body.
