COMPREHENSION

Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow.

Mrs Sharma bought a mixer-grinder for her kitchen. The shopkeeper had explained about it to her in detail. There were two jars and a goblet. Each one had a different blade. One was for making juices, one for cutting up things into small bits and the goblet was for grinding everything into a paste. He gave her a small book in which it was all written down. Mrs Sharma was very happy as she carried it home. She put the tomatoes in one of the jars and placed it in the mixer. Then she plugged it in and switched it on. She was not aware that the switch on the mixer was already 'on' and she had not held the lid down. So, as soon as she put it on, the lid flew off and the tomatoes shot all over the kitchen, splattering the walls, floor and the ceiling! She switched off both the plug and the mixer in a hurry and wiped the tomatoes off her face before setting out to clean up the mess!
