WORKSHEET

COMPREHENSION

Read the following story and answer the questions that follow.

Tenali Rama had not been able to water his fields for a week. As he walked home at night, he was worried. Suddenly, he saw two dark figures hiding behind the trees near his house. He thought they were thieves who had come to rob his house, but they did not know that he had seen them.

Tenali Rama went in and told his wife loudly that there were thieves in the city and that she should lock up all the valuable things in a trunk and throw it into the well where it will be safe. No one will know where their valuables were. Then he quietly whispered to her about the two thieves outside and told her to fill something heavy in the trunk. She understood and put a heavy grinding stone into the trunk. Tenali Rama dragged the trunk outside and threw it into the well with a big splash. Then they went to sleep.

The two thieves crept out after a while. They had overheard the conversation. So they ran quickly to the well and looked in. They decided that the best thing was to drain the water out of the well. Then it will be easier to get the trunk out. So they went on and on through the night, drawing out the water and throwing it into the field.

Early morning, Tenali Rama awoke and saw the poor fellows trying to heave out the heavy trunk. All his fields had been watered! He went out and thanked the thieves. They were startled and ran for their lives.
